About the Wisconsin Council on Problem Gambling

The Wisconsin Council on Problem Gambling was formed in 1993 to create public awareness about problem gambling in Wisconsin and provide services to problem and compulsive gamblers. The Council is a non-profit organization, governed by a volunteer Board of Directors. The Council's major funding source is the State of Wisconsin, Department of Health Services, Division of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services, Bureau of Prevention, Treatment and Recovery. The Council also receives grants, donations and conference sponsorships from some Wisconsin Native American Tribes, as well as individual donations and memberships.

The Council operates a 24-hour Helpline at 1-800-GAMBLE-5, distributes informational brochures, organizes an annual statewide conference, makes presentations on problem gambling and conducts training sessions for treatment providers interested in the special requirements for working with compulsive gamblers and their families.

WCPG Mission Statement

The Wisconsin Council on Problem Gambling provides resources, public awareness and education on problem and pathological gambling disorders while maintaining strict neutrality on the issue of legalized gambling.

Providing hope for recovery

What is compulsive gambling?

Compulsive gambling can be a progressive disorder causing a psychologically uncontrollable preoccupation and urge to gamble. Individuals can eventually lose the ability to control the impulse to gamble.

This results in excessive gambling, which can compromise, disrupt or damage personal, family or employment pursuits. It is recognized by the American Psychiatric Association as an Impulse Control Disorder.

Why should I care?

An estimated five to seven percent of Wisconsin residents, about 333,000 people, are problem or compulsive gamblers. Not only does compulsive gambling shatter the lives of men, women and their families, it affects the workplace and results in economic loss to society.

Compulsive gambling is described as a "hidden illness" since there is no breath odor or stumbling of steps or speech. It is as debilitating as alcohol or drug addiction. Still, there is hope for recovery. Once diagnosed, compulsive gambling is a treatable illness.

Help is just a call away at 1-800-GAMBLE-5 (1-800-426-2535)

The 24-hour Problem Gambling Helpline provides information and referrals for gamblers, family members and concerned friends or employers of gamblers who are experiencing problems because of gambling. In its first year of operation in 1996, the Helpline received 3,433 calls. In 2008, total calls reached 12,946. WCPG has created a statewide database of qualified treatment providers, Gamblers Anonymous and GamAnon chapters to which callers can be referred. Written information on compulsive gambling is also sent on request.
