Green Bay, WI – The Wisconsin Council on Problem Gambling today announced its commitment as a participant of the 2024 Gift Responsibly Campaign, joining lotteries and community organizations across North America and around the world to raise awareness about the risks of underage lottery use. The campaign is organized by the National Council on Problem Gambling (NCPG) and supported by the North American Association of State and Provincial Lotteries (NASPL).

Research shows that the earlier a person's participation or exposure to gambling is in childhood, the more likely they are to develop a gambling problem later in life. Gambling exposure during childhood is often through some kind of lottery product, such as lottery tickets or scratch offs. Often these items are given to a child by an adult who is unaware of the associated risks.

The Wisconsin Council on Problem Gambling encourages adults not to give lottery tickets to underage children/teens as holiday gifts – many problem gamblers report that they began gambling during childhood. "Problem gambling is a growing concern among adolescents. We feel it's important to let parents, grandparents and others know that lottery tickets are not a good gift choice for children", says Rose Blozinski, WCPG Executive Director.

The Wisconsin Council on Problem Gambling has signed on to the 2024 Gift Responsibly Campaign as a participant. During November and December, the Wisconsin Council on Problem Gambling will work to promote awareness about the risks of underage lottery use by raising awareness about the risks of youth gambling by public service announcements, social media, in-person school presentations, video presentations, etc...

"The potential long-term risks associated with underage gambling exposure cannot be understated," said Keith Whyte, NCPG Executive Director. "We applaud the Wisconsin Council on Problem Gambling for their commitment to raising awareness about the risks of youth gambling and for working to educate the community that lottery tickets are never appropriate gifts for children."

The WCPG has been an affiliate of the NCPG since 1994. Rose Blozinski has served on the National Board two different terms, each term for several years. The WCPG staff has served on several committees over the years. WCPG has hosted the National Conference in 2012. The WCPG works in unison with the NCPG to promote awareness of gambling disorders and responsible gambling.
